

Winship Cancer Institute | 2018 Melanoma Conference

Saturday, March 3, 2018

Rollins Auditorium
Health Sciences Research Building (HSRB) on the Emory Campus
1760 Haygood Drive | Atlanta, Georgia 30322

Agenda

- 8.00 AM Breakfast/exhibit hall open
- 9.00 AM Opening remarks
David Lawson, MD
- 9.10 AM War on melanoma: Taking it to the streets with mole mapping cancer screening
Sancy Leachman, MD, PhD
- 9.40 AM Radiation for nonmelanoma skin cancers in the dermatologist's office: A radiation oncologist's (generally positive) perspective
Mohammad Khan, MD, PhD
- 10.05 AM Molecular characterization of stage I-III melanoma: How close are we to accurate prognostication and prediction?
John Seykora, MD
- 10.35 AM BREAK AND EXHIBIT VIEWING
- 10.55 AM More skin in the game: Multidisciplinary management of cutaneous adverse events of targeted and immunotherapeutic agents
Rajini Murthy, MD
- 11.20 AM Update on new AJCC Staging System for Melanoma: What are the changes and why?
Jeff Gershenwald, MD
- 11.35 AM Approach to the nodal basin: Should we just leave it alone?
Jeff Gershenwald, MD
- 11.50 AM Adjuvant therapy of melanoma: Beyond ipilimumab?
David Lawson, MD
- 12.15 PM LUNCH
- 1.00 PM Update on merkel cell carcinoma and other nonmelanoma skin cancers: The times they are a-changing
Ragini Kudchadkar, MD
- 1.15 PM Update on uveal melanoma: At least a glimmer of light
Melinda Yushak, MD
- 1.30 PM Multidisciplinary approach to metastatic melanoma: Systemic therapy before surgery or instead of surgery?
Michael Lowe, MD

- 2.00 PM Management of melanoma brain metastases: Much more to think about
Hussein Tawbi, MD, PhD
- 2.30 PM BREAK
- 2.50 PM Molecular testing of metastatic melanoma: Which test(s), when, how to interpret
Melinda Yushak, MD
- 3.05 PM Optimization of the use of immunotherapy and targeted agents by aggressive management of noncutaneous adverse events
Ragini Kudchadkar, MD
- 3.25 PM Systemic therapy for metastatic melanoma: Decisions and sequencing
David Lawson, MD
- 3.50 PM Closing remarks
David Lawson, MD
- 4.00 PM Adjourn